Hi John:

Thanks for your note. Glad to hear you were thinking about Cy and me.

I have sent a note to Cy to encourage him to get involved and hope you hear from him.

This note is about your tentative plans to go on eBay with the Chao device. With eBay you can get some cash but Chao is gone forever. Another possibility is to donate Chao to The National Cryptologic Museum located next to the headquarters of the National Security Agency at Fort Meade, Maryland.

The only question is whether they would accept it but we can easily find out if you are interested. And, of course, there are other museums to consider.

Best wishes.

Lou
